ST. VALENTINE'S DAY

TO YOU KNOW how St. Valentine's Day was named and why we J send Valentines on that day?

Hundreds and hundreds of years ago, during the time of the early Romans, the people were preyed upon by wolves. And once a year, during the month of February, a festival called Lupercalia was held in honor of Lupercus, the wolf destroyer. The heroes of this occasion were the men who had killed the greatest number of wolves in their community. And it was the custom at this time for all the young people to draw lots for their partners for the year.

Centuries later the fourteenth of February was c lebrated in England and France as St. Valentine's Day.

St. Valentine was a priest who was put to death in Rome with the early Christians about the year 270. Later the Church decreed that he should become a Saint. All the early pagan rites were changed to Christian feast days, and Lupercalia became St. Valentine's Day, as his day came nearest the time of the old Roman celebration.

St. Valentine's Day has come on down through the ages and the custom of young people casting lots for partners has taken the charming form of Valentines.

So to be truly in keeping with the old old practice of St. Valentine's Day your Valentines should be as lovely and loving as you can possibly make them.

If you are thinking of having a Valentine party, there are so many novel ideas which may be used in the preparations. In the refreshment line little sandwiches, cut in the shape of hearts, with gayly colored sandwich fillings, may be used. And on the other hand, the cake may be elaborated upon, for instance: a light square cake, covered with white Icing and dotted with tiny candy hearts - the kind everybody knows with "I love you" and "You're my giri" written on them. Cookies, too, may be made into heart shapes and covered with red icing. Then, of course, table favours galore, may be found in any of our stationery stores.

Included in your games you may use the following, which creates lots of fun for the kiddies, and even the "young-minded" grownups. Place a large box (hat box) in the middle of the room tied with a big red bow, and in the top make a slit. Each guest may be given paper and colored pencils to make a valentine, to be addressed and dropped in the box. Then elect some one to act as the mailman. There will be many good laughs in this game.

FACTS AND FANCIES-

Orange date cake-One and one-half cups sugar, one cup shortening, three cups flour, one and one-half teaspoons soda, one teaspoon salt, one and one-half cups sour milk, one cup dates, chopped; one whole orange. Cream shortening (butter or vegetable shortening) and sugar together. Mix flour, baking powder, soda and salt and add alternately with sour milk. Add dates, mix well and add whole orange, put through food chopper, last. Serve topped with whipped cream.

TRADITIONAL PEASANT DESIGNS ARE ADAPTED FOR NEWEST GIRDLES

Hand-embroidered Hungarian linen Belt in Scottie dog design,

Women of North America like to embroider as a pastime. But in European countries the poorer classes do exquisite needle work for a living.

Every nation has some form of art particular to its people. And the embroideries of the various peoples of Europe can be identified by those who are wise in the lore of the different countries. There are Norwegian embroideries and laces; Swedish ditto; French, Itathem, the work of the people of Hungary, that little nation in southern Europe, has its own peculiar charm, and is famous throughout the world.

Weisz of Budapest, Hungary, has adapted the traditional patterns of the peasants and styled them for the newest in belts. Skilled peasants, both men and women, have transferred the gay designs to linen and handloomed jute belts for American women to use as bright accents for dark dresses.

Bright Flower Embroidery

The hand-loomed jute belts that are perfect with suits, sweaters and light woolen frocks are also embroidered in bright yarns. Gay dogs and geometric patterns are featured on these, as shown in the model at the left, and these too are also finished with the wooden buckles.

These belts are washable and of fast colors. They are being worn in the south and on cruises, and will be seen with many a pretty spring and summer frock.

Speaking of the waistline, as one does when talking of belts, the new blousing below and above it has caught on in the negligee field. It is effective in negligee, house coat and lounging fashion stylings, giving bodices a soft, billowy quality that is very attractive. Sleeves are also following the same trend.

Negligee designers think that this particular style is more suited to their field than it is to that of

27 YEARS OF SCOUTING

Twenty-seven years ago on Forusary 8, the Boy Scouts were first chartered under the District of Columbia. Now the organization has swept through United States and Canada as a great national movement.

It was once thought you could guide and inspire youth by lecturing them. The youngsters of the present day are not keen on moral lectures, and the inspiration has to be given them in a kind of sugar coated pill. The fascinating pursuits of Scouting are interesting to them. They become so attached to the movement, that they learn things they ned to know about good citizenship and conduct.

Away Back Waben By FRANK FAIRBORN Jr.

THERE were nudist colonies in the early days of the Christian era, and people who weren't nudists ridiculed those who were, and reformers said no good could possibly come of such shameful doings.

Roman soldiers played football not unlike it is riayed towny. Polo was invented in China centuries ago. Backgammon was played in ancient Ur. Penelope's suitors amused themselves by playing checkers and the Romans shot craps. Loaded dice are common finds in Roman ruins. The Circus Maximus at Rome seated 320,000 people and could be emptied in ten minutes. No stadium of today can compare in seating capacity, and none can be emptied in anywhere near ten minutes. There was an arrangement which made it possible to flood the Roman Collseum and turn it into a swimming pool. Rome had a Broadway, called Via Lata, which means Way Broad and traffic jams were so bad that it finally was decreed that heavy trucks could move only at night when pleasure and light delivery traf-

The Romans had apartment buildings—some of them ten stories high. They had hotels, too, and for food for the guest and his mule, a room, wine, and even a fair damsel to keep the traveler from being If people would take care of their health, they homesick, the charge was only eight cents. That may be where the expression "the good old days" originated. Incidentally, paintings and records of the time prove that gentlemen preferred blondes.

They had drugstores, too, and antique stores, and bookshops, and department stores. The department stores sold raincoats, parasols, Hitchhikers not merely have to hold up their hairnets and hairpins, aprons, rugs, blankets, needles, safety pins and thumbs, but have to give them a jerk to attract at mosquito netting, among other things. In the drugstore you could get tention. Hard to see how some of them would have toothbrushes, tooth powder, and mouthwash. Hair brushes, combs and

The Roman business man could dictate letters to his stenographer who had a choice of three different systems of shorthand.

For lunch the same business man could have pickles, sausage, cold cuts of smoked ham, oysters, guinea hen, capon, caviar, tuna fish, artichokes, mushrooms, asparagus, whole wheat bread, fruits, meions and most other staples of modern diet.

He had his newspaper, in the form of a bulletin, that told all the late goings on of the day, and it was delivered to him. The Romans used thumbprints for seals, knowing that no two people had the same prints. Pawnshops were known in Greece, and bills of exchange were in use centuries before Christ. Liberty Bonds were invented by the Venetians to finance a war. Speakeasies were common in Rome after a law was passed by Caesar decreeing that grog shops could remain open only between the hours of 10 in the morning and dusk. Rum runners in rare Grecian wines, and clip joints, where the painted hussies "rolled" drunks for their pocketbooks, were common. Pliny the elder described a hangover, and the Greeks had fifteen words for drunkenness. There is an Egyptian papyrus which tells of a priest who went on the water-wagon. Unfortunately the same papyrus reveals that he slipped off again. Liquor licensing was practiced in Egypt.

In England, 200 years ago, bootleggers made phony champagne out of apple cider and alcohol.

In the second half of the double-header bill The Independents will meet the Hamilton "Dukes" of the F. & S. League who held the Peach Pits to a 1 to 0 score in the early part of the season .

On Tuesday night of this week the Fort Erie team failed to show up for their game with The Independents, so the kids staged a game trimming, but at that they did not have a runaway of it as the visitors smashing francs, with both teams displayed plenty of pep and ability.

In this game Don Taylor, centre ice player of the Pits, crashed the break that would given them the goal post while tearing in for a shot and was knocked unconscious and had to be carried from the ice. It was several hours before he was his real self again. Fortunately no bones were broken and outside of a bruising and shaking up will feel no ill effects of the crash.
